

- Kuki-Lushai, men dressed as women to deceive dangerous ghosts or spirits among the, ii. 263
 Kuklia, Old Paphos, i. 33, 36
 Kundi in Cilicia, i. 144
 Kupalo, figure of, passed across fire at Midsummer, i. 250 sq.; a deity of vegetation, 253
 Kupole's festival at Midsummer in Prussia, i. 253
 Labraunda in Caria, i. 182 #.⁴
 Labrys, Lydian word for axe, i. 182
 Laconia, subject to earthquakes, i. 203
 *n.*²
 Lactantius, on the rites of Osiris, ii. 85
 Lagash in Babylonia, i. 35
 *x.*⁵
 Lago di Naftia in Sicily, i. 221 n.[^]
 Lagrange, Father M. J., on the mourning for Adonis as a harvest rite, i. 231
 Laguna, Pueblo village of New Mexico,
 ii. 54 ».²
 Lakhubai, an Indian goddess, i. 243
 Lakor, theory of earthquakes in, i. 198
 Lamas River in Cilicia, i. 149, 150
 Lamentations of Egyptian reapers, i. 232,
 ii. 45 ; of the savage for the animals and plants which he eats, 43 sg. ; of Cherokee Indians " after the first working of the crop," 47 ; of the Karok Indians at cutting sacred wood, 47 sq.
 Laments for Tarn muz, i. g sg.; for dead kings of Judah, 20 ; for Osiris, ii. 12
 Lampblack used to avert the evil eye, ii. 261
 Lamps lighted to show the dead the way, ii. 51 sq.; for the use of ghosts at the feast of All Souls, 72, 73
 Lancashire, All Souls' Day in, ii. 79
 Landen, the battle of, i. 234
 Lane, E. W., on the rise of the Nile, ii. 1
 ».¹
 Lantana salvifolia, ii. 47
 Lanterns, the feast of, in Japan, ii. 65
 Lanzone, R. V., on the rites of Osiris, ii. 87 *w.*⁵
 Larnax Lapethus in Cyprus, Melcarth worshipped at, i. 117
 Larrekiya, Australian tribe, their belief in conception without cohabitation, i. 103
 Lateran Museum, statue of Attis in the, i. 279
 Latham, R. G., on succession to husband's property among the Kocchs, ii. 215 *n.*² Laurel, gold wreath of, worn by priest of Hercules, i. 143 ; in Greek purificatory rites, ii. 240 sq.
 -----bearing, a festival at Thebes, in Boeotia, ii. 241

Leake, W. M., on flowers in Asia Minor,
 i. 187 *it.*⁶
 Leaping over Midsummer fires
 to make hemp or flax
 grow tall, i. 251
 Leaves and flowers as talismans, ii. 242
 sg.
 Lebanon, the forests of Mount,
 i. 14 ;
 Aphrodite of the, 30 ; Baal
 of ; hf., 32 ;
 the charm of
 the, 235
 Lech, a tributary
 of the Danube ii.
 70 Lechrain, feast of All Souls in, ii. 70
 sq.
 Lecky, W. E.
 H., on the influence of great men on the popular
 imagination,
 ii. 199
 Legend of the foundation of Carthage
 and similar tales, ii. 249 sg.
 Lehmann-Haupt,
 C. F., on the historical Semiramis, i.
 177 *n.*¹
 Lent, the Indian
 and Fijian, i. 90
 Leo the Great,
 as to the celebration of Christmas, i.
 305
 Leonard, Major
 A. G., on sacrifices to prolong the lives of kings
 and others,
 ii. 222
 Leprosy, king of Israel expected
 to heal,
 i. 23 sg.
 Lepsius, R., his identification of Osiris
 with the sun, ii.
 121 sg.
 Leti, theory of
 earthquakes in, i.
 198
 Letopolis, neck
 of Osiris at, ii. ii Letts, their annual festival of the dead,
 ii. 74 sq.
 Lewis the Pious, institutes the feast of
 All Saints, ii. 83
 Leza, supreme being recognized by the Bantu tribes of Northern
 Rhodesia, ii.
 ¹⁷⁴ Licinius Imbrex,
 on Mars and Nerio, ii.
 232
 Lightning thought by Caffres to be caused by the ghost of a powerful chief, ii. 177
 with *n.*¹ ; no
 lamentations allowed for persons killed by,
 177 *y?*¹
 "Lights of the dead" to enable the ghosts to enter houses, ii. 65
 -----, three hundred and sixty-live, in the
 rites of Osiris,
 ii. 88
 Lion, deity
 standing on a,
 i. 123 //. ; 127 ; the emblem of the Mother Goddess, 164 ;
 as emblem of Hercules
 and the Heraclids, 182, 184 ; carried
 round acropolis
 of Sardes, 184, ii.
 249
 -----god at Boghaz-Keui, the mystery
 of the, i. 139
 sg. ; of Lycia, 184
 ---slaying god,
 statue of, i. 117
 Lions, dead
 kings
 incarnate in, i.
 83
 n?-, ii. 163 ;
 carved, at gate, i. 128 ;
 as emblems
 of the great Asiatic Mother-
 goddess, 137 ;
 deities seated
 on, 162 ;
 spirits of dead
 chiefs reincarnated in,
 it. 193